*Prosciutto and mozzarella, pasta Bolognese and pizza capricciosa - Italy

[\[https://romancandletoours.com/en/home\]](https://romancandletoours.com/en/home) is famous for its cuisine around the world. But although many recipes are based on meat and dairy, you can still enjoy delicious meals across the Eternal City - even if you are vegan. To help your stomach navigate the food search, we have sorted out some of the most amazing vegan places in Rome

[\[https://romancandletoours.com/en/tours/index/2/guided-tours-rome-italy\]](https://romancandletoours.com/en/tours/index/2/guided-tours-rome-italy). Although they may not be the most centrally located, the experience you will gain from visiting them is definitely worth going there.

Vegan Quo Vadis? [\[http://www.veganquovadis.com/\]](http://www.veganquovadis.com/) offers vegan friendly hospitality services in Rome and provides a free, regularly updated online map

[\https://www.google.com/maps/d/viewer?

[mid=zRTogCPp24f4.kD5gFJ_Zs8lo&shorturl=1\]](https://www.google.com/maps/d/viewer?mid=zRTogCPp24f4.kD5gFJ_Zs8lo&shorturl=1) of vegan, vegetarian and vegan friendly restaurants, bars and shops from all parts of the city. This is the first map of this kind which at the moment has more than 240 pins, that will make your decision where to eat very simple based on the location where you are or plan to go. Furthermore, if you are looking for a spacious, cozy and cheap short term lodging in the central part of Rome – this place is perfect for you. The apartment in San Giovanni warmly welcomes not only you but also your pets and has a fully equipped kitchen perfect for cooking vegan friendly meals. Follow their Facebook [\[https://www.facebook.com/veganquovadis/?fref=ts\]](https://www.facebook.com/veganquovadis/?fref=ts) page and you will get very useful suggestions on what to do and where to go on daily basis.

Romeow Cat Bistrot [<http://www.romeowcatbistrot.com/>] is the first “cat café” alike establishment in Italy that allows you to make feline friends while you enjoy your coffee or a meal. Based on a Japanese concept of a bar and a “cat sanctuary” at once which is becoming more and more popular in Western countries, Romeow Cat Bistrot is a vegan and vegetarian bistrot placed in Ostiense which offers variety of extraordinary dishes of particular taste, including meals based on raw food. The unusual interior and numerous stray cats walking around will make your time here an unforgettable experience.

[<https://www.facebook.com/gelateriabeautiful/>], which until couple of months ago was a typical Sicilian gelateria that have used dairy to make their products, now offers cakes, cookies and ice creams entirely made of cruelty free ingredients. But regardless of the change of components, their sweets taste even better then originals. When you arrive here, try a piece of vegan Tiramisù – you will see that there is no difference between it and a traditional one made with mascarpone cheese.
